

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

February 12, 2015

CONTACT:

Wayne Vance, Center on Congress at Indiana University
(812) 856-4706, wvance@indiana.edu

Maria Gallo, Center for Civic Education
(818) 591-9321, gallo@civiced.org

Michelle Hudgins, National Education Association
(202) 822-7823, newsdeadline@nea.org

Applications Welcome Through April 15 for 2015 American Civic Education Teacher Awards

LOS ANGELES — April 15 is the application deadline for teachers who wish to be considered for the 2015 American Civic Education Teacher Awards. The application form is at <http://civiced.org/community/teachers/civic-ed-awards>.

The awards are given annually to elementary and secondary teachers of civics, government and related fields who have demonstrated exceptional expertise, dynamism and creativity in motivating students to learn about Congress, the Constitution, and public policy.

The ACETA program is jointly sponsored by the Center on Congress at Indiana University, the Center for Civic Education, and the National Education Association.

Each year the ACETA program selects and showcases three teachers who are doing exemplary work in preparing young people to become informed and engaged citizens. Applicants must be full-time classroom teachers of grades K–12.

Applications for the 2015 awards must be postmarked no later than Tuesday, April 15.

There is no fee to apply. In addition to a resume and a two-page self-portrait essay, applicants must submit three letters of recommendation—two from teaching peers and one from their school principal.

The selected teachers will join a distinguished group of 27 prior honorees who have been selected since the program began in 2006. The previous ACETA awardees are as follows:

-more-

David Alcox (Milford High School and Applied Technology Center, Milford, N.H.)
Jim Bentley (Foulks Ranch Elementary School, Elk Grove, Calif.)
Nate Breen (Cheyenne Central High School, Cheyenne, Wyo.)
Sally Broughton (Monforton Elementary School, Bozeman, Mont.)
Christopher Cavanaugh (Plainfield High School, Plainfield, Ind.)
Kevin Cline (Frankton Jr. Sr. High School, Frankton, Ind.)
Cheryl Cook-Kallio (Irvington High School, Fremont, Calif.)
Mary Ellen Daneels (Community High School, West Chicago, Ill.)
John Dickson (Harwich High School, Harwich, Mass.)
Barbara Simpson Ector (Cleveland Middle School, Cleveland, Tenn.)
Jaime Festa-Daigle (Lake Havasu High School, Lake Havasu City, Ariz.)
Kevin Fox (Arcadia High School, Arcadia, Calif.)
Milton Hyams (Incline High School, Incline Village, Nev.)
Cindy Jarrett (Durant Road Elementary School, Raleigh, N.C.)
Tamara Johnson (Kettle Moraine High School, Wales, Wis.)
Julie Kuhnhein (Highlands High School, Fort Thomas, Ky.)
Galelyn McElroy (Central High School Magnet Career Academy, Louisville, Ky.)
Natalie O'Brien (North Smithfield High School, North Smithfield, R.I.)
Richard Ochoa (Alta High School, Sandy, Utah)
Mark Oglesby (Howell High School, Howell, Mich.)
Douglas Oswald (Marion Technical Institute, Ocala, Fla.)
Nancy Peterson (Gilbert High School, Gilbert, Iowa)
Donna Paoletti Phillips (Robert Frost Middle School, Rockville, Md.)
Jennifer Reidel (Lynden High School, Lynden, Wash.)
Sarah Ann Richardson Turpin (Clemson Elementary School, Clemson, S.C.)
Jackie Viana (Hialeah Gardens Middle School, Hialeah Gardens, Fla.)
Gregory Walsh (Falls Church High School, Falls Church, Va.)

About the Sponsoring Organizations

The Center for Civic Education (www.civiced.org) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan educational organization dedicated to fostering the development of informed, responsible participation in civic life by citizens committed to the values and principles fundamental to American constitutional democracy.

The Center on Congress (www.centeroncongress.org) is a nonpartisan educational institution established in 1999 to help improve the public's understanding of Congress and to encourage civic engagement.

The National Education Association (<http://www.nea.org>) is the nation's largest professional employee organization, representing 3.2 million elementary and secondary teachers, higher education faculty, education support professionals, school administrators, retired educators and students preparing to become teachers.

###